"Our fathers, surely, provided for us a goodly heritage. They cast our lot for us in pleasant places, on the swift, gliding streams of Woronoco.

Let us never forget that we are the guardians of its present and its future prosperity,"

From the Address of Hon. William G. Bates at the Bi-Centennial Celebration October 6, 1869.

January 1920

Greet ye all—the Days of Old,
And their wealth of life unfold.
Glad of heart, the record read
Of high courage, faithful deed,
As men wrought for Church and State,
Giving all, so they be great.
Years of growth and power ye see,
Sign and seal of years to be.
